TIMES SQUARE

The image shows a highly decorative mosaic sign for Times Square station. The sign is rectangular with a dark blue background and white, bold, sans-serif lettering. It is framed by a wide, ornate border composed of yellow and blue mosaic tiles. The border features intricate patterns, including a central relief of a classical figure's head and shoulders, and decorative scrollwork. Above the sign, a horizontal band of mosaic tiles with a repeating geometric pattern is visible, flanked by two sets of three vertical slits. The entire sign is mounted on a wall of white square tiles. The background above the wall consists of several large, rectangular windows with a light, overcast sky visible through them.
